

Question 7: What is this site used for?

When the answer to the first survey question, “Is there a structure on this site?” was “No,” surveyors followed a shorter set of questions designed to identify land use and conditions. Parcels were tagged vacant lots if they had no structure or obvious use. Parcels were tagged as parking lots if they were formally paved for vehicle parking.

Large, publicly owned green spaces were tagged as parks, distinguishable from smaller, locally-owned community garden spaces. Attached lots were identified when a fence would adjoin a vacant lot to a residential property and was confirmed with County property codes.
